

ECOLOGICAL JUSTICE PMA: CLEAN AIR, GOOD JOBS & JUSTICE FOR ALL

Friday 1:00-5:30pm, Cobo Hall D3-28

In this critical moment, the USSF provides a key site for indigenous peoples, economic justice, immigrant rights, environmental justice, and other racial justice movements to come together to strategize to win community control over our lives and resources. The voices of indigenous peoples and frontline grassroots community organizations must be central to helping us foster communities of resistance and resilience that can rewrite the rules of the game based on transformed relationships – with each other and the earth. At this Ecological Justice PMA, we hope to advance proposals from the grassroots for shared work on climate and ecological justice rooted in an understanding of the need to transform the global systems that determine the ways each of us gets to live, work, and play.

★ Prepare to fully participate in the PMA by reading the goals, agenda, and draft resolution: http://wiki.ussf2010.org/wiki/EcoJustice_PMA

Sponsoring Organizations: Movement Generation, Zero Waste Detroit, Asian Pacific Environmental Network, Indigenous Environmental Network, Global Alliance for Incinerator Alternatives, Ruckus Society, Alliance for Democracy, Mountain Justice, Southern Tier Advocacy & Mitigation Project (STAMP), ShaleShock Action Alliance, Southwest Workers Union, Mothers on the Move, Women of Color United, Just Transition Alliance, Environmental Justice Climate Change Initiative, Global Justice Ecology Project, and more!

